CS393 Allen B. Downey
Fall 1999

Syllabus

- Professor: Allen B. Downey (downey)
- Office: Mudd 417, x3672
- Class time: Friday 1:30-2:45pm, Mudd 412a
- Textbook: none
- Mailing list: the mailing list for the class is cs393@colby.edu As soon as possible, you should send email to majordomo@colby.edu with the following text in the body of the message: subscribe cs393.

  You should receive confirmation that you have been added to the list. I will use the mailing list to distribute some class information, especially last-minute corrections and things like that. I also encourage students to use the mailing list to contact each other, ask questions, make suggestions, or anything else, as long as it pertains to the course.
- Class-related email: I don't use a Macintosh or a Windows NT machine, so please don't send me attached documents in formats other than plain text.
- Web page: The handouts that I produce (as opposed to the ones I photocopy from other sources) will be available from the class web page. The URL is http://rocky.colby.edu/cs393

1 Coursework

Each student will be asked to select readings for the group for one week, and to make a short presentation of that material, and to lead the discussion in seminar.

The topic for the seminar this semester is ... um, well.

Because the primary coursework is in-class discussion, regular attendance is important. Transgressors will be vilified.
